the Colonel — if colonels still retain power of recommendation, almost of appointment, for their field — would render a good one.

Adding to this, the fact that I am willing and able to share with or reimburse expenses incurred by said Colonel or others. It appears to me that I might not find much difficulty.

My qualifications and experience are, as you have heard, good.

You will please me under great obligations if you will further my views