

Instructions on Transferability:

To be eligible to transfer benefits the Soldier must:

1) Be eligible for the Post 9/11 GI Bill (90 days or more on title 10 following 9-11-01)

*Soldiers that elect Chpt 33 GI Bill are making an irrevocable election to give up their Chpt 1606, 1607 and 30 benefits.

2) Have at least 6 years of military service when the request to transfer benefits is submitted; all military service counts towards the six year requirement except time in the Individual Ready Reserves.

3) Not have an adverse action flag.

Soldiers who transfer benefits incur an additional service obligation of 4yrs or up to Retention Control Point/Mandatory Retirement.

Once a Soldier meets the requirements above, the Soldier can elect to transfer the Chpt 33 benefits by

1) Signing on to the DOD Transferability Website located at <https://www.dmdc.osd.mil/TEB/>.

2) Once the request is processed, the Soldier will receive an email with a SOU attached. Complete the SOU and return it to the GI Bill Team. Once processed you'll receive an email stating the request was approved or denied.

3) Once you receive the email, return to the transferability website at <https://www.dmdc.osd.mil/TEB/> and save or print a copy of the approval for your records.

To start collecting the benefit from the VA, the dependent must:

1) The Soldier's spouse or dependent must then complete VA form 22-1990E through the VA's website at www.va.gov. Attach proof that the transferability was approved (PDF file from the TEB website).

2) Once they start school, the spouse or dependent should see the VA representative and inform them they will be using Chpt 33 gi bill. The school will need to provide enrollment paperwork.

Once the paperwork has been processed through the VA Regional Processing Center, the student will receive paperwork in the mail detailing their entitlement.

For more information on the Chpt 33 Post 9-11 GI Bill including estimated rates, please visit the Chpt 33 corner or the NYARNG Chpt 33 Calculator on the Education website at <https://www.us.army.mil/suite/page/535774>.