New York Naval Militia Physical and Medical Requirements

1. Policy and Direction. New York Naval Militia (NYNM) members and applicants will follow the guidance in the following areas:

a. The medical requirements of service in the New York Naval Militia are the same as that of the individual's parent federal Reserve component. Arduous physical activity may be required. All members must be able to run/walk one (1) mile in less than 20 minutes and be able to lift or carry up to 40 pounds on a frequent basis

b. Physical Examination Requirements

(1) Selected Reserve and Individual Ready Reserve members of the United States Navy, Marine Corps, or Coast Guard must maintain all physical and health requirements of their parent federal service. Copies of all medical documentation are maintained by the parent service. If a member is physically qualified (PQ) as a Reservist (SELRES/IRR), then no additional documentation is required.

(2) 900-series unit members must have on file a current (within the past 365 days) record of a medical evaluation as delineated in Section (3). Upon completion of the medical evaluation, members must forward a copy of the applicable forms by mail or electronically to NYNM Headquarters to update their service record and database. The NYNM Force Medical Officer will administratively review all submissions for completeness and accuracy, and endorse submissions as indicated. Members who are required to submit medical documentation to NYNM Headquarters will do so at their own expense. Individuals evaluated under the medical requirements of this instruction will be classified as either:

(a) Physically Qualified (PQ). Medical examiners will report those individuals as physically qualified (PQ) who have met the medical requirements of the NYNM, which are the same as the individual's parent federal Reserve component. No individuals will be accepted as being PQ on a provisional basis pending treatment or correction of a disqualifying condition.

(b) Not Physically Qualified (NPQ). Medical examiners will report those individuals as not physically qualified (NPQ) who have not met the medical requirements of the NYNM as the result of a disqualifying condition. The medical examiner must differentiate between permanent NPQ and temporary NPQ status.

(3) Forms for recording a member's medical history (NYNM Form 93) and physical examination (NYNM Form 88) are found in the forms section at the end of this instruction.

(4) The components and frequency of medical evaluations include:

(a) Medical History: All covered examinees (enlistment, appointment, determination of fitness-for-duty, and 900-series unit members) shall complete NYNM Form 93 (Report of Medical History) prior to the medical examination. This form shall be reviewed by the medical examiner for completeness and accuracy. All 900-series unit members are required to complete NYNM Form 93 on an annual basis and forward a copy by mail or electronically to NYNM Headquarters to update their service record and database.

(b) Physical Examination: A physical examination for enlistment, appointment, determination of fitness-for-duty, and 900-series unit members must be conducted by a licensed physician or other appropriately credentialed healthcare provider at the member's own expense. In some cases, a military medical specialist may conduct the examination as designated by the Commander, NYNM. NYNM Form 88 must be completed, signed, and dated by a licensed or other appropriately credentialed medical examiner. Individuals assessed to be permanently NPQ may request a waiver. All waiver requests must be submitted in writing to the NYNM Force Medical Officer, who will assess the waiver request and forward a written medical opinion to the Commander, NYNM. A waiver may be authorized by the Commander, NYNM in the best interest of the service.

(5). All applicants must submit a completed NYNM Form 88 (Report of Medical Examination) and NYNM Form 93 (Report of Medical History) to NYNM Headquarters either by mail or electronically before affiliation will be considered.

(6). All 900-series unit members are required to submit completed NYNM Forms 88 and 93 to NYNM Headquarters on an annual basis as per Section 1.b.(2).

c. Height and Weight Standards

(1) All persons enlisting or applying for appointment must meet the established standards as set forth in Appendix A.

(2) All members will be evaluated annually under the direction of the Regional Commander.

(3) Failure to meet established standards:

(a). Persons seeking enlistment or appointment who do not meet the established standards will be rejected. Members applying for a professional development course or for promotion who do not meet the established standards will not be considered.

(b). Failure to meet the established standards at any other time an evaluation is required will initiate progressive remedial action:

(1). Upon the first incident of failure, the member will be counseled by the Force Medical Officer (or his/her designated representative) who will set one or more intermediate goals toward meeting the established standards. The member will be given (3) three months to demonstrate significant progressive improvement toward the required goal. If the member is in compliance with the intermediate goal, then continued improvement will be required until the member meets the established standards.

(2). If the member has demonstrated significant improvement but did not achieve the intermediate goal during the first (3) months, the member will be counseled and given an additional (3) months to achieve the required goal. If the member has not demonstrated significant improvement within the first (3) months, then the member shall be processed for separation.

(3). If, following (6) six months of remedial action, the member has not achieved the established standards; the member will be involuntarily separated from the New York Naval Militia. The member may submit a written request for a weight waiver to the NYNM Force Medical Officer, who will assess the waiver request and forward a written medical opinion to the Commander, NYNM. Final waiver decisions shall be ascertained by the Commander, NYNM.

(4) Weight-to-height standards: Apply to all members. Upon recommendation by the Force Medical Officer, waivers to the weight-to-height standards may be authorized by the Commander, NYNM in the best interest of the service.

d. In the event of mobilization or other State Active Duty assignment, a pre-mobilization screening will be conducted to ensure that a current physical exam record is on file, attesting to the member's ability to perform arduous duty as stated in this instruction.

2. Appendix A to this enclosure is the Weight to Height Table. Appendix B includes the New York Naval Militia Forms for Report of Medical Examination (NYNMFORM 88) and Report of Medical History (NYNMFORM 93).

Weight-to-Height Table

Height is measured in stocking feet without shoes or boots, standing on a flat surface with the chin parallel to the floor. The body should be straight but not rigid, similar to the position of attention. The measurement will be rounded as follows:

If the fraction is less than $\frac{1}{2}$ inch, round down to the next whole number.

If the fraction is more than $\frac{1}{2}$ inch, round up to the next whole number.

Weight is measured and recorded to the nearest pound following these guidelines:

If the fraction is less than $\frac{1}{2}$ pound, round down to the next whole number.

If the fraction is more than $\frac{1}{2}$ pound, round up to the next whole number.

This chart is designed for weight measurements taken in a standard PT uniform (gym shorts and T-shirt; without shoes). Alternatively, measurements may be taken in a utility uniform consisting of blouse, trousers, belt, undershirt, underwear, and socks without boots. In this case, subtract $4\frac{1}{2}$ pounds from the measured weight to calculate the member's equivalent weight.

For members over 80 inches, add 6 pounds per inch for both males and females to calculate table weights. The weight standards are based on a maximum BMI of 30 and are independent of age and gender.
