Funeral of Captain Shimer.

The body of Capt. Shimer arrived here on Monday evening last, via New York. That of Serg't J. E. Barnes arrived by the same train. The latter was taken to Benton for interment.

Capt. Shimer being a member of the Masonic Fraternity, attached to Ark Lodge No. 33, to the Geneva Royal Arch Chapter, and to the Geneva Commandery of Knights Templars, his funeral was conducted here on Wednesday last in accordance with the beautiful, impressive and solemn ritual of the Order. The brethren met at their Lodge room in Seneca street, their numbers augmented by delegations of Masons from Canandaigua, Phelps, Waterloos and Seneca Falls, and proceeded in a body to the house. There were about 175 in the line of procession, clothed with white gloves and aprons, and other insignia of the order. From the house the coffin was borne on the shoulders of the masonic pall bearers to the Rev'd Dutch Church. The following was the Order of Procession:

The introductory exercises at the Church were conducted by the Rev. Dr. Wiley, the pastor. His address embodied a fitting biography and eulogy of the deceased, referring as well to his character as a citizen as to his later career as a soldier.

The masonic ceremonies which followed, at the church and at the grave, were observed with deep interest by the large concourse of spectators. They could not fail to create a favorable impression on the minds of all as to the high and holy mission of the institution. Almost co-equal in existence with the birth of Christianity itself, it has kept pace with the latter in the inculcation and support of every moral and social virtue, chief of which are friendship and brotherly love. Thus knit together by the holiest of ties, the Masonic brethren feel scarcely less acutely than natural kindred, the severance of such ties by the hand of death. The void in the mystic circle is felt as in the family circle. The emblems of the Lodge room remind us of the bereavement.
and that the name of the deceased brother is on perpetual record among us. Thus will brother Shimer, though dead to the world, live in the remembrance of his brethren of the craft.

The funeral of Capt. Wheeler, of the 126th Regiment, who died from wounds received at the battle of Gettysburg, took place at Canandaigua, a week ago Sunday. Rev. Dr. Daggett delivered the funeral discourse, and the body was attended to the grave by Companies F and D, of the 54th N. G., and a very large procession of people. The funeral ceremonies were very impressive.

Ontario county lost three captains of the 126th Regiment at Gettysburg—Capt. Isaac Shimer of Geneva, Company F; Capt. Wheeler of Canandaigua, Company K; Capt. O. J. Herendeen, Company H. All men of excellent personal qualities and valuable soldiers.

Soldiers in Hospital—We have received the following:

Baltimore, Md., July 10, 1863.

Very respectfully,

M. A.

The above was clipped from the Rochester...t of Tuesday.

Capt. Brough, commandant of Company E, 126th Regiment, was wounded in Thursday's fight at the battle of Gettysburg. He bound up his arm and went on fighting all day Friday. Said a man was a coward who would give out from such a wound. He went into the battle with 47 men, and on Saturday mustered but fourteen.

The Killed and Wounded—We received from Adjutant Brown, on Saturday last, a list written at Frederick, Md., on the 9th inst., in which he promised to forward to us a correct list of the killed and wounded in the 126th Regiment as soon as it could be made out, giving the nature of the wounds, &c. He desired that no other list should be published, as they were incorrect. We have anxiously waited the Adjutant's list, but it has not come, and we are compelled to go to press without it. We publish in its stead the list sent by Elder Harrison, the Chaplain, to the Dundee Record. It is known to be imperfect, but is the best we can do. We ought to have had a correct list in the two companies, A and B, before this, but we must wait a little longer. It is understood that Joseph Hollowell, and a young man by the name of Nichols, of Company B, belonging at Milo Centre, were killed. These names are not in Chaplain Harrison's list. Other errors and omissions have been mentioned which do not now occur to us.

Briefs.

The 126th Regiment captured three flags from the enemy during the fight at Gettysburg.
Hon. C. J. Folger has furnished the following list of the wounded of the 126th Regiment, and their whereabouts.

At Gettysburg, Pa.—Seminary Hospital—Smith Stebbins, Lieut. Jacob Sherman, Mortimer Garrison, Wm. Stewart, Samuel Clark, Geo. Day (or Gay) Hy T. Alcott.

Chas. P. Gray, Marcus Andrus, nurses; not hurt.

Christ Church Hospital, York St.—John Morin, Wm. Wood.

At Hospital Camp 2d Division—Geo. Nickerson (or Nicholson.)

At Baltimore and vicinity—Lieut. Sidney E. Brown, C. J. J. Camp, C. Lieut. M. H. Lawrence, B.

N. B. It is supposed that all at Jarvis Hospital have been sent north, except Sergt. Dibble, but as their names are not found elsewhere they are put down here.

McKims Hospital—John D. Rivers, D. John W. Overaker, H.

At Philadelphia & Vicinity.—BROAD ST.
HOSPITAL—J. H. Stull, M. F. Dunham,
SUMMIT HOUSE.—S. J. Calvin, E. H. Mc-
Quigg, D. Ryan, H. Kipp, B. (or R.) C.
Lockhart, E. B. Norris, G. W. Con, Norris Beley, M. Covert, John Bond, H. S.
Dickins (or Dickenson,) E. G. Hamblin, MOWER HOUSE OR CLERMONT HILL.—A.
N. Fiero, John Blausett, Theron Dunn.
WEST PHILADELPHIA OR SATTERLEE—
B. (or R.) Crippen, Chas. L. Clapp, Jerry Parks, Wm. G. westfall.
GERMANTOWN HOSPITAL—C. S. Gilbert.
CONVALESCENT HOSPITAL—Francis M.
Parker, John H. Chambers, Aliza Cubert.
It is to be observed, that the men who are reported above, as at Hospital in Baltimore, may have left as the Hospitals there are relieved as fast as possible, by sending north those who can bear transportation.
The place to make inquiries, at New York, Philadelphia, &c., is at the office of the Medical Director.
In New York 458 Broome St.
" Philadelphia, corner Grand & 13th St.
" Baltimore, near Barnums Hotel, and in New York a pass from the Medical Director will much facilitate entrance to the Hospitals.
It may be well to say, that this list is not complete, for we know of men of the Regiment, who left Gettysburg, wounded, whose names have not been found on the books of the Medical Directors, and whose whereabout has not yet been ascertained.
It may be satisfactory to friends, to state that the Hospital in the Cities seem in an extremely neat and comfortable condition.

FROM THE 126th REGIMENT.

We find in the Rochester Union of Saturday, a letter from a wounded member of Co.
D, 126th Regt., written shortly after the battle of Gettysburg. After describing their march from Centreville, which he represents as a severe one, averaging 20 to 36 miles per day over heavy roads, to accomplish which many of them were obliged to throw away all their baggage, he says:

Company D. of the 126th, lost many men in killed—the best material of which the company was composed. Among those were H.
Wood, corporal; E. Tyler, sergeant, and C.
Grinall, from Naples, Ontario county, N. Y.
They were loved and esteemed of the whole company. H. W. Wilson, Canandaigua, of Co. D, was a man of education, and proved to be under all circumstances one of the best soldiers the country afforded. T. Cosmick H. Lewis were of the same stamp as sol.
and will be much missed, when duty is to be performed in the company, and regiment—
Among the wounded of Naples I will mention the names of O. C. Lyon, R. Pogar and Z.
Sabins, who had not only won the esteem of the men of their company but of the whole regiment, as true and willing men to the cause in which they were engaged. All, in fact, performed their part well, which was plainly shown by wounded rebels taken prisoners by us. Our company officers were all on hand, and behaved not only bravely but manfully. Lieuts.
Lincoln and Geddis went through the whole three days fight without a scratch, not because they were unexposed, for such was not the case.
Cpt. C. A. Richardson was wounded in the foot the first day, and he was unable to be afterwards with his command. He made himself useful in taking care of his wounded men, giving them all the attention and aid that lay in his power. Our corporal, H. Mattoon, was shot by a sharp-shooter in the neck close to the backbone which was no more or less than a pretty close call. He stated he did not know what they wanted to shoot him for, as he "wasn't doing anything only just carrying the flag along."

Col. Sherrill died of wounds received July 2d. A record of a high character will ever attend his memory. Lieut. Col. James M. Bull has proved to be not only a fighting man but a perfect tiger in battle. Our major, P. D. Philips, was absent at the time at Washington, and, also the orderly of Co. D; but had they been with us, we are confident they would have been at their posts. Capts. Shimer and Berendeen were killed, and truer men never lived. But some of what are termed our finest officers, were so fine that in battle they could hardly be seen — whether it was on account of smoke or not, I will leave to be told by others.

It is now generally conceded that were it not for the resistance of the draft in New York City and other places, that the battle of Gettysburg would be looked upon as the most desperate and decisive of the war.

And now to the friends of the killed and wounded of the 126th, allow me to say that the only consolation that you can obtain here below, is that your near and dear friends have been killed and wounded while doing their whole duty to themselves and their country. And to you all that wish for greater consolation, may you look to a higher and better Commander who reigns where war and the rumors of war are heard of no more.

WOUNDED OF THE 126th REGIMENT.

General Order, No. 183.—First: The military commission of which Maj. Gen. Hunter, U. S. V., is President, appointed to meet in the city of Washington on the 25th of September, pursuant to special order No. 225, of September 23, 1862, to investigate the circumstances of the abandonment of Maryland Heights and the surrender of Harper's Ferry, have reported that Col. Thos. H. Ford, of the 82d Ohio volunteers, conducted the defence of Maryland Heights without ability, abandoned his position without sufficient cause, and has shown throughout such lack of military capacity as to disqualify him in the estimation of the commission, for a command in the service. The said Col. Thos. H. Ford is, by direction of the President, dismissed from the service of the United States.

Second. The commission having reported that the behavior of the 126th N. Y. V., was disgraceful, and that Maj. Wm. H. Baird, for his bad conduct ought to be dismissed, the said Wm. Baird of the 126th N. Y. V., is, by direction of the President dismissed from the service of the United States.
Third. The commission having reported that Brig. Gen. Julius White, U. S. V., acted with decided capability and courage, and merits its approbation, and having found nothing in the conduct of the subordinate officers brought before the commission, they are released from arrest and will report for duty.

HARPERS FERRY.

We print in other columns the report of the Military Commission appointed to examine into the recent surrender of Harpers Ferry—a document of the greatest importance and certain to command attention from the deep concern of the country in knowing the authors of that national disgrace. The Commission was composed of officers whose names give authority to their decision, and has evidently done its work with pains and impartial justice.

The material facts are as follows: Col. Miles was in command at Harpers Ferry. Gen. White was present from Sept. 12 till the surrender, but did not assume command. Col. Ford took command of Maryland Heights Sept. 5. Gen. McClellan left Washington for Rockville Sept. 7, most of his forces having proceeded him.

The enemy attacked Maryland Heights on the evening of Sept. 13. The 13th New-York broke and fled disgracefully, and the breastwork on the hill was taken by Col. Miles and Col. D'Utassy on Maryland Heights that evening for some hours, consulting with Col. Ford. He left between 11 and 12 o'clock, without directly ordering Col. Ford to evacuate the Heights, but with instructions to spike his guns if compelled to abandon. About 2 o'clock Col. Ford abandoned the Heights. The enemy did not occupy them, and the next day Col. D'Utassy sent over four companies, who brought away four guns and a wagon-load of ammunition.

After the evacuation of Maryland Heights, Col. Miles sent word to Gen. McClellan, then at Frederick City, that unless reinforced he could not hold out 48 hours. Gen. McClellan thereupon dispatched a messenger to Gen. Franklin, who was engaged with the enemy at Crampton's Gap, wholly unable to give the needed assistance, or to give it in time. Gen. McClellan appears to have made no other effort to relieve the beleaguered stronghold.

The enemy attacked Harper's Ferry itself on the morning of the 15th, and at 8 a.m. the surrender was agreed on, Col. Miles representing to the brigade commanders whom he consulted that his ammunition was nearly exhausted, and they concurring in his decision to surrender.

The Commission acquit Gen. White, Col. D'Utassy and Col. Trimble of all blame for the surrender, and praise the capacity and courage of the former. They find that Col. Ford was given, by Col. Miles, discretionary power to abandon Maryland Heights, but that the exercise of this discretion was premature; that he conducted the defense with no ability, and that his exhibition of lack of capacity was such as to disqualify him for a command.

Col. Miles is convicted of incapacity and criminal neglect, especially in neglecting to fortify and hold Maryland Heights, the key of the position, and the evidence stated in the report concerning his communications with the Rebels is such as to raise the strongest suspicions of treachery also.
