

THE THIRTIETH REGIMENT.—This Regiment will be mustered out in this city on the 2d of June. It is, or was, composed largely of Albanians—its first Colonel being the lamented Frisby. It is entitled to a glorious reception by the citizens of Albany. This is its record:—It has been engaged in eleven battles and twenty-six skirmishes. It was in the first battle of Fredericksburg, in the battle of Cedar Mountain, in three battles between there and Bull Run, in the battle of Bull Run, in the battle of South Mountain, in the battle of Antietam, in the battle of Fredericksburg in December last under Burnside, and finally in the 'eight days' battles at the same place under Hooker. In all these engagements, it gained laurels for its efficiency and courage. Out of the original number that started for the seat of war, but one hundred and eighty-six remain. Company B, that left here ninety-six strong, now has but sixteen of the original number left. Other companies can show a similar record of depletion. All of the original field officers are gone, some of them transferred to other regiments, but most of them martyrs to their country. Beside their services in the field, the Thirtieth almost entirely built one of the forts near Washington. What regiment, in the whole course of the war, can show a better record than this? Let us give the returning heroes an ovation that will show that their brilliant services have not been forgotten.

IRON BRIGADE.—In the army of the Potomac was an "Iron Brigade, so called because of its fighting qualities, its endurance and its heroism. It was the admiration of the service, and frequently received special and flattering notice from the President and General Commanding. We see that some of our Western exchanges claim that the "Iron Brigade was composed of the Second, Sixth and Seventh Wisconsin, the Eighth Indiana and the twenty-fourth Michigan regiments." This is an error. The Fourteenth Brooklyn, Twenty-second, Twenty-fourth and Thirtieth New York were the only regiments forming the "Iron Brigade." The name was bestowed by Gen. Patrick, and is inscribed on the regimental flags of the above named regiments.

THE "VETERAN CORPS."—The "Veteran Corps" to be organized in this State from returned volunteers, will consist of two Cavalry and twelve Infantry regiments only. The "Empire Light Cavalry," now being raised by Col. M. H. Chrysler, (late of the 30th,) is one of these.

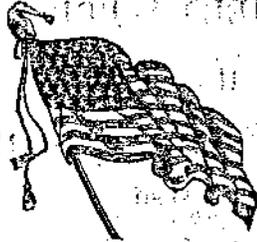

It should be borne in mind that the U. S. bounty of $402 will not be paid to "veterans" who enlist in new organizations; but to realize this bounty they must join the "Veteran Corps."

RECEPTION.—The reception of the volunteers of the Thirtieth Regiment, at Cambridge, Wednesday, was an old-fashioned oration. All Washington county was present. Speeches were made by Rev. C. H. Taylor, Messrs. Palmer and Gray, a fine collation was served, and a large procession paraded—consisting of the Thirtieth militia regiment, with five companies from Cambridge and Union Village. Doring's Band furnished the music, and gave the highest satisfaction.

DAILY LOG BOOK.

MONDAY, JUNE

The Reception.

A despatch was received from Albany by the Committee of arrangement for welcoming our brave boys on their return home, that the company would reach here by the noon boat to-day. This short notice gives us but little time for preparation, but it is just as well. We can show our grateful feelings towards them as well by a scanty display on short notice as by a grand display on long notice. But considering the few hours we have for preparation it is believed we shall have one of the grandest processions that has ever been exhibited in this city.

The following are the officers of the day:

JOHN P. ADRIANCE, Marshal.

Aids—THOMAS PARISH,
WILLIAM S. JOHNSON,
CYRUS SWAN,
EDWARD INNIS,

RECEPTION OF THE THIRTIETH REGIMENT.
—Extensive preparations are being made to receive this regiment, which is now on its way home. —They are expected to arrive at night, and the entire Fire Department will be out with a torch-light procession to welcome them. There will also be a fine display of fireworks. Arrangements are also being made in Troy and Lansingburgh to receive those portions of the regiment belonging in those places. No regiment that has yet returned from the war has been more conspicuous in its gallantry, or has suffered more losses than the Thirtieth, and it is due to the few who return to receive them with every demonstration of gratitude for their services and their sacrifices.

THE RECEPTION OF CO. E.—Arrangements for a proper reception of this company are progressing finely. We are informed that all the military of the city, together with every company in the Fire Department, have been invited to take part in the reception. The committee were around yesterday and will be around again, to day to solicit subscription for carrying out the arrangements. We need not urge our citizens to subscribe freely in that undertaking as the mere mention of the subject will undoubtedly answer the purpose. As soon as we can ascertain the programme of the reception we shall lay it before our readers.

At the reception of a portion of the Thirtieth Regiment at Saratoga, last Monday, Col. Searing, in reply to the welcoming address of the President of the village, referred, among other things, to the pleasing surprise he had felt on hearing the reception address of Gov. Seymour. He said that "he had been told that this State was the very hot bed of what is called 'Copperhead-ism,' but that if Gov. Seymour's remarks made him a 'copperhead,' he (Col. Searing) might also be classed as a 'Copperhead.' Gov. Seymour had said nothing but what was loyal, manly and patriotic. He was in favor of using all the power of the country to aid the government in putting down the rebellion and to restore the Union."

RECEPTION OF THE 30TH REGIMENT, N. Y. S. V.
—A meeting of the Board of Foremen of the Fire Department was held at the Chief Engineer's office, last evening, to consult together with reference to the reception of the 30th Regiment, which is expected to arrive here in the course of a week. A resolution was adopted requesting the Department to parade in full force on that occasion, and also requesting the Foremen of the different companies to use their exertions to carry out the wishes of the Board and the Common Council.
It is understood the arrangements will be so perfected as to have the regiment reach this city at night, and that the reception shall be a grand torchlight display, which it is expected will far excel anything ever witnessed in our city. We have no doubt the different companies in the Department will enter into the matter with spirit, and that the duty assigned to them will be performed in a manner alike creditable to them and satisfactory to the citizens and authorities.

COLONEL FRISBY'S REGIMENT EN ROUTE.
ALBANY, June 27, 1861.
Colonel Frisby's regiment went to New York at six o'clock this evening by the Hudson River Railroad.

THE ROBBERY OF A MEMBER OF THE THIRTIETH REGIMENT.—It is remembered that on Saturday night last, Jacob Koonz, a member of the 30th Regiment, was taken across the river in a skiff by three men, who robbed him of his money and beat him in an outrageous manner. This occurred after the parade of the Regiment on Saturday night.—Koonz had been drinking considerably, and at a very late hour he took a notion into his head of going to Greenbush to see his aunt, residing there. At the ferry he met these men, and the fact of his being under the influence of liquor, no doubt, induced them to invite him to cross in the skiff. Koonz supposed that they had oars in the boat, but when they reached midway in the river he discovered they were paddling with pieces of boards. On reaching the opposite shore they commenced an attack upon him, knocking him down several times, and attempted to throw him overboard, but he clung to the side of the boat, and thus escaped from their clutches for the time being. After he got ashore he was followed and knocked down by the same party several times, and left almost lifeless in the street. Reaching this city he communicated the facts to his friends, and gave the names of his suspected assailants. This led to the issuing of a warrant for two young men named Thomas Burns and James Shephard, and they were arrested by officers Teasney and Franklin yesterday. A prolonged examination took place before Justice Cole, during which Koonz, on his direct examination, swore positively that Burns and Shephard were the parties who assaulted and robbed him of his money; that he was well acquainted with Burns, he having belonged to the same company with him. On his cross-examination, however, he was not quite so positive, and said that he had not seen Burns before that night in four years; that he was told Burns belonged to his company, and did not know it of his own knowledge. A number of witnesses were called and testified that Burns and Shephard both went to bed, in the house of the former, between 12 and 1 o'clock Sunday morning, and remained there during the night. It is alleged that the robbery was committed between 2 and 3 o'clock Sunday morning.

Reception at Poughkeepsie.
POUGHKEEPSIE, June 1
 Co. E of the 30th N. Y. V., enlisted at the commencement of the war and first from this city, met with a most brilliant reception here to-day by the entire Fire Department, all the military, pupils of Warring's Institute and students of Eastman's College.
 The company lost 50 men in the 13 engagements in which they participated.
 The 7th Regiment band from New York headed the procession. Secretary.

AN HONORABLE RECORD.—All the officers recently belonging to the 30th N. Y. V., who were turned over to the N. Y. 76th, when the 30th was mustered out, were killed or wounded at Gettysburg, as follows:—
Killed.—Capt. Everett. Wounded.
 1st Lieut. Keeler, ankle; 2d Lieut. Noxon, leg; 2d Lieut. Long, foot; 2d Lieut. Buchanan, shoulder.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

ARRIVAL AND RECEPTION OF THE THIRTIETH REGIMENT.—The 30th Regiment, under command of Col. William M. Searing, arrived in this city at an early hour Saturday morning, on board the steamer Vanderbilt. The regiment were met at the boat by the Committee of Arrangements, and escorted to breakfast, which they partook of heartily. After breakfast, the members were dismissed for the day, and called upon their friends in different parts of the town. Towards evening Tivolia Hose Company proceeded to the barracks with the Committee of Arrangements, and escorted the regiment to the Delavan House, where a good supper was prepared for them.

About 8 o'clock the different Fire Companies assembled at the Chief Engineer's Office, and proceeded thence to the corner of Broadway and Maiden Lane, where the the Thirtieth was received.

The members of the Common Council of Troy, and also the Trustees of Lansingburgh came down in carriages and took up their position on the right of the line.

The Fire Department was drawn up in line, and as the regiment filed past cheer after cheer rent the air. The enthusiasm of the citizens as manifested upon this occasion was seldom equalled.

The regiment came to a halt in Broadway at Hudson street, and the Fire Department filed by, and opened order.

The Mayor and Common Council of this city and Troy and the members of the Board of Trustees of Lansingburgh, in carriages, took up a position on the right of the line. The steamer "Hugh Rankin," of Troy, followed, and then came the regiment. The Fire Department flanked the regiment and carriages, and thereby prevented the enthusiastic crowd from interfering with the marching of the regiment by rushing into the ranks, &c.

The procession marched through Broadway, Church, Lydian, Pearl, Clinton avenue and State street to the Capitol, where the regiment was received by His Excellency Governor Seymour. The exercises at the Capitol were of a highly interesting character.

The display of bunting in private residences along the route was immense. The pyrotechnic display in State street, and also at other points, particularly at the residences of Alderman Wilson and Colonel Harcourt, was one of unusual magnificence.

At the conclusion of the exercises at the Capitol the regiment was escorted to the barracks.

Although the heavy clouds betokened rain, with the exception of a slight shower, the weather was all that could be desired.

NARROW ESCAPE.—During the display of fireworks in State street, on Saturday night, a ball of fire discharged from a roman candle, set on fire the window curtain in Milvain's hat store. Fortunately it was discovered in time to prevent a conflagration.

Three Cheers Called for Gov. Seymour.

To the Editor of the Saratogian.—I see that the Editor of the Ballston Atlas questions the accuracy of your report of the reception of the officers and men of the 30th regiment, where you stated that during Col. SEARING'S reply to the welcome of President WHITE a man called for three cheers for Gov. Seymour which were not given. Now I have no doubt that the Editor of the Atlas is sincere in denying that such a call was made, although he might have been more gentlemanly and temperate in his language; but to show how hard it is to remember correctly, except one's mind is specially attracted to an affair on purpose to report it, I will relate the substance of a conversation on this subject between two Republicans and two Democrats. One Republican confidently vouched for the truth of your report, and the other as stoutly denied it. One Democrat, (no less a person than the Editor of the Republican), could not remember distinctly as to the facts, and the other, (the Editor's son, Samuel,) remembered hearing the call for cheers, and quoted Col. Searing's allusion to it, "Cheer for no political man or party," or words to that effect. This quotation recalled the circumstance to the minds of the others, so that all remembered it. Ferdinand Height, a Democrat whose word the editor of the Atlas should not hesitate to take on this subject, distinctly remembers it, about the same as Samuel Young does. EX-REPORTER.

We print the above communication, because it was sent to us without solicitation, and not because any reply was needed to the ruffianism of the Ballston Atlas. Hundreds of names could be obtained, if necessary, comprising men of both parties, to sustain the entire accuracy of our report of the reception of the 30th regiment.

THE THIRTIETH ALBANY REGIMENT, COL. FRISBEY. June 3, 1866

The Thirtieth Albany regiment, under command of Colonel Frisbey, did not arrive in the city yesterday, much to the disappointment of large numbers of the friends of the regiment in New York. Late in the afternoon a despatch was received at General Arthur's office, stating that the regiment had been detained, but would leave Albany at half-past six o'clock P. M. They may, therefore, be expected here at about two o'clock this morning.

POUGHKEEPSIE, June 1. The 30th New York State Volunteers, enlisted at the commencement of the war, and the first from this city, met with a most brilliant reception here to-day by the entire War Department, all the military pupils of Warng's Institute, and students of Eastman's Business College. The company lost 50 men in the 13 engagements in which they participated. The 7th regiment band, of New York headed the procession.

Stand by No. 6.

Officers and members of Young America Engine Co. No. 6 are notified to meet at their engine house this (Monday) morning, at 11 o'clock, in full uniform, to take part in the reception.

To-morrow the collector of the Daily Eagle will call on the subscribers in the First Ward for the usual two weeks subscription and he wants it to be distinctly understood by all who take the paper that they must pay up better than they have done lately. This waiting four or five weeks is payed out. So look out for yourselves when he comes around in all the Wards.

WHAT ROBBERY AND ATTEMPTED MURDER.

Our readers will recollect that on Saturday night last, Jacob Koon, a member of the 30th Regiment, was taken across the river in a skiff by a couple of men who robbed him of nine dollars and then attempted to murder him. This outrage was committed after the parade of the 30th regiment on Saturday night. Koon had imbibed freely during the day, and at a very late hour concluded to pay a visit to his aunt, residing in Greenbush. At the ferry he met these men, who invited him to go across in a skiff. He supposed that they had oars in the boat, but when they got out into the stream, he discovered that they were paddling with pieces of boards. On reaching the opposite shore they commenced an attack upon him, knocking him down several times with the boards, and also attempted to throw him overboard. After getting ashore, he was followed and beaten by the same party who left him helpless on the ground. He soon regained strength enough to be able to walk to this city, where he communicated the facts to his friends, and gave the names of the suspected assailants. On Monday he appeared before Justice Parsons and issued a warrant for two persons to be identified. Yesterday officers Franklin and Toomey arrested two young men named Thomas Burns and James Shepherd, on the charge of committing the robbery and assault. Koon identified the prisoners as being his assailants. He said that he was well acquainted with Burns, because they both belonged to the same company.

On the cross-examination, however, he was not quite so positive. He did not know, of his own knowledge, that Burns belonged to the same Company with him. He was only told so by some of the members. He described the clothing, &c., of his assailants.

Several witnesses were examined on the part of the defence, and each testified that the accused party were on this side of the river at the time of the alleged occurrence; that they both slept together at the house of Burns. They retired at 12 o'clock.

After a protracted examination, the accused were discharged.

In the meantime, Governor Seymour and Adjutant-General Sprague, as well as other influential persons, are very anxious to have him take the field again, and Governor Seymour has asked him to take a regiment now in the service; but it is understood he will close up his old regimental business, and look a little to his own private affairs, before leaving home again. Two years ago, when he went with the 30th, the emergency was such that he left his private business entirely unsettled, and having been almost continually in the field since, he feels that it is necessary to spend a short time at home; although he would like to go immediately if he could be assured that the outlook was to have a fight on the old Bull Run field. A NEW REGIMENT OF CAVALRY.— We learn that Lieut. Col. M. H. Chrysler, of the late 30th regiment, received authority, a few days since, to organize a new regiment of cavalry, and with his usual energy entered upon the business of recruiting, so that he is reported to have nearly 300 men on his rolls. The following officers are engaged in recruiting the regiment: Capt. A. L. Gurney, who has been mustered in as Regimental Quartermaster; Capt. Williams, Capt. Lanning, Lieuts. Van Voast and Becker, all of the 30th, are raising companies, as is also Capt. Duncan Cameron, late of the 22d regiment. Col. Chrysler is desirous of having his regiment rendezvous at this place, if suitable arrangements can be made for their accommodation.

Several other officers, beside those above named are raising companies, but we have not been favored with their names.

Arrival of the Thirtieth at Albany.]
ALBANY, May 30.

The Thirtieth regiment, Col. Seanny, arrived yesterday morning. In the evening a grand torch light procession took place, the entire fire department participating. After the parade the regiment marched to the Capitol, and were welcomed home by Gov. Seymour and Gen. S.

A CORRESPONDENT of the Troy Whig informs that paper of a singularly mean and narrow-minded incident that transpired in the village of Lansingburgh at the reception of Company A, of the Thirtieth Regiment. It appears that the Committee of Ladies who arranged the dining hall, and ornamented it so beautifully, had prepared, among other decorations, a wreath of evergreens and flowers, in the centre of which was placed an engraving of Gen. McClellan. This the Republican gentlemen, committee of arrangements, saw fit to remove, forbidding its presence in the room, fearing probably that it might awaken the cheers and enthusiasm of the returned volunteers. The ladies, of course, felt very much chagrined at this most chabby treatment and gross insult.

Home Matters.

Col. SEARING is busily engaged in closing up the affairs of the 30th regiment, which he finds no small job, as there are a great many papers to perfect before the regimental business can be considered as fully disposed of. He will probably have to visit Washington before everything can be fully arranged. In the meantime, Gov. Seymour and Adjutant General Sprague, as well as other influential persons, are very anxious to have him take the field again, and Gov. Seymour has asked him to take a regiment now in service; but it is understood he will close up his old regimental business and look a little to his own private affairs, before leaving home again. Two years ago, when he went with the 30th, the emergency was such that he left his private business entirely unsettled, and having been almost continually in the field since, he feels that it is necessary to spend a short time at home; although he would like to go immediately if he could be assured that Hooker was to have a fight on the old Bull Run field. His regiment was left there without such support as had been promised; and after standing their ground until their ammunition was expended, was compelled to fall back before an overwhelming force. He thinks General Hooker would not leave a regiment or brigade in that way—at least he is willing to try it.

Albany
COMPANY E.—The members of this company are taking advantage of the chance given them to visit their friends and associates in the city. We are informed that they will proceed to Albany in a day or two and there remain until they are mustered out of service.

We are also informed that the company have three months back pay coming to them, which, together with the United States bounty, payable when they are discharged, will make one hundred and thirty-nine dollars that each of them will receive. Quite a "brace" for the boys.
