

We presume the fourth list will show about the same proportion; if not, the full list of subscribers and their contributions, which we purpose to give next week, will render the fact apparent. We do know, however, that a very large proportion of the subscription is from Republicans—very much larger than the proportionate Republican representation on the committee; and that the committee throughout was not influenced in the slightest by any partisan consideration whatever. We trust that the Whig will see from this statement that it has been misinformed, and do no injustice to our citizens and village, and have the candor to brand as false and malicious the imputations of its anonymous fault finder.

ARRIVAL OF THE THIRTIETH REGIMENT.

The brave Thirtieth reached the city this morning at 5 o'clock, in the Vanderbilt. A salute of a hundred guns bade them welcome. A large crowd of friends met them, and they proceeded, at 7 o'clock, under escort of the Committee of Arrangements, to Breakfast, at the Stanwix, Merchants' and Exchange Hotels.

After breakfast, the Regiment went to the Barracks, or visited their friends, as the formal reception does not take place until this evening, at 8 o'clock, previous to which the Regiment will dine with the Committee of Arrangements and guests from Lansingburg, Troy and Saratoga.

The procession is to form at half-past eight o'clock. It will be composed of the Fire Department, with torches. The route will be: Through Broadway to Church, Church to Lydius, Lydius to Pearl, Pearl to Clinton avenue, Clinton avenue to Broadway, Broadway to State, State to Capitol Park, where the Regiment will be received by Gov. SKYMOUR.

It is expected that the authorities and Firemen and Military of Troy, Lansingburg and Saratoga will join in the proceedings—each of these localities having contributed largely to the Regiment.

The display will be one of unusual magnificence.

The 30th was organized under the supervision of the lamented Col. FRISBY, who retained command, as he did the affection of every man in the Regiment, until he was killed while heroically fighting at the last battle of all Run, on the 30th of August. The Lansingburgh Gazette gives the following brief history of the Regiment:—

The Regiment was mustered in in May, and at Albany, (Col. FRISBY commanding) in June, 861, with 741 enlisted men and a full complement of officers. In the fall of the same year, 132 were raised for the unexpired term of the Regiment. In the fall of 1862, 268 recruits were enlisted for three years, making a all 1,133 enlisted men. For several months after the Regiment left home it was stationed near Washington, but when the Peninsular Campaign was opened, it was as a part of McDowell's Corps moved to the Rappahannock.

On the 18th of April, 1862, the Thirtieth, with the rest of Gen. AUGER's Brigade, took possession of Fredericksburg, driving the ene-ny across the river, and was only prevented from pursuing him by the burning of the bridges over the Rappahannock. The regiment remained there until August. During that time the brigade to which it belonged, made several brilliant reconnoissances, one of which was towards Spottsylvania Court House, when Stuart's cavalry attacked them in their rear, taking several of their number prisoners. After which our men attacked the Rebels and drove and pursued them about seven miles. On the 10th of August the regiment left Falmouth and marched to Culpepper to reinforce Gen. Pope after the battle of Cedar Mountain and reached there on the 11th. Next morning preparations were made to attack the enemy, but on the skirmishers being thrown out, it was found that the enemy had retreated. They lay at Cedar Mountain until about the 17th, when Gen. POPE was ordered to fall back across the Rappahannock. From Culpepper the Thirtieth brought up the rear of the army, and was the last to cross the river. For three days and nights at the Rappahannock, the regiment was constantly under fire, and was successful in holding the enemy in check, at this point; and was also engaged with the enemy at Sulphur Springs. On the 28th it took part in the short but desperate battle of Gainesville, holding the field after the battle. On the 29th they were engaged in the ill-managed fight of Bull Run, and suffered severely. On the 30th, the battle being renewed, the Thirtieth was among the first to enter the fight, distinguishing themselves for their bravery. Owing to one of the divisions giving way, on their left, the enemy succeeded in planting a battery which plowed through their ranks, making great slaughter among them. Here the heroic Captain KING was killed in front of his company, and the brave Colonel FRISBY fell while leading on his men. This devolved the command upon Lieut. Col. SEARING, who has proved himself a worthy successor of the gallant dead. After the battle they returned to their old camp at Upton's Hill. Remaining there a few days, they were ordered off into Maryland, and took an honorable part in the battles of South Mountain and Antietam, where Lieut. CAMPBELL distinguished himself in leading his men of the Lansingburgh company. They were at the battle of Fredericksburg, and under Franklin on the left. They were more fortunate here than in other battles, previously, losing only two men wounded. They also took part in the second battle with Hooker, but lost no men.

From killed, wounded and discharged from disability, the regiment has lost 493 men, leaving its muster out strength about 480. One hundred and fifty-three of the three years' recruits will be left in the service. There are now seventy-two sick and wounded in hospital. Ninety men and six officers have been killed in action. Two hundred and nineteen men and twelve officers have been wounded in action. Only eight men and two officers have died of disease, and two men from accidental causes. Out of the original number that started for the seat of war, but one hundred and eighty-six remain. Co. B, that left Albany ninety-six strong, now has but sixteen of the original number left. Other companies can show a similar record of depletion. All of the original field officers are gone, some of them transferred to other regiments, but most of them martyrs to their country. Beside their services in the field, the Thirtieth almost entirely built of one of the forts near Washington. We assume that few regiments in the service have done more work, or in a more thorough manner; and none, we venture to say, have suffered less from disease, a proof that both officers and men have been discreet, careful and prudent. They come home, at the expiration of their term of service, with the proud consciousness of having served their country faithfully, and of having earned the heartfelt thanks of every true patriot for the sufferings they have endured, and the kindling smile of every eye, and the cordial grasp of every hand, for the glories they have won.

RECEPTION OF THE 30TH REGIMENT AT SARATOGA.—The citizens of Saratoga have held a public meeting, for the purpose of making arrangements for the reception of the officers and members of Cos. D, F, and G, of the Thirtieth Regiment. The fire department will parade, and the reception will be co-operated in by the citizens generally.

RECEPTION OF Co. A, 30th REGIMENT IN LANSINGBURG.—The Gazette says the arrangements for the reception of Co. A, 30th Regiment, in that village, appear to be of quite a liberal and complete character, although the day has not been fixed upon. About $400 has been raised and appropriated to this end by the committee, and citizens are vying with each other in a private way in efforts to make the village appear gay as well as festive on the occasion. A Seaman will act as Marshal, and J. C. Comstock will deliver the reception address.

The following is a list of the present officers of the Regiment:—

FIELD OFFICERS.

Colonel—William M. Searing.
Lieut. Colonel—M. H. Chrysler.

Company F—1st Lieutenant James M. Andrews, commanding.

THE "WELCOME HOME" TO THE LANSINGBURGH VOLUNTEER COMPANY.—The formal "welcome home" to Company A, of the Thirtieth regiment, by the citizens and public authorities of Lansingburgh, took place yesterday, and was a grand affair. The reception was most hearty and enthusiastic; the turn-out large and creditable, and the demonstration, on the whole, must have been truly gratifying to the soldiers. Business was pretty generally suspended, and the citizens, without an exception, evidently put forth their best efforts to make the occasion as pleasant and as hearty as possible.

The Company, escorted by Relief Engine Co. No. 11, of Albany, and Sullivan's Band, of this

... from the Albany Barracks early yesterday morning, embarked on the steamer G. C. Davidson, and reached this city at half-past ten o'clock. After landing at the steamboat wharf, the company marched to Washington Square, where they were drawn up in line, for the purpose of having a large sized photograph taken, which was successfully executed by Mr. J. M. Herron. The group consisted of the company, Capt. Campbell, Lieuts. Gillespie and Shelley, and Captains Gordon, Scott and Potts.

After marching down Second to State, and over State to River, both companies, military and firemen, took the cars which were in waiting on the square. Mayor Van Alstyne and several members of the Common Council, also joined the party, as guests of the village authorities. The train, which was composed of eight cars, arrived at Lansingburgh soon after eleven o'clock. The cars were decorated with flags, and on the route the soldiers were frequently greeted with cheers and other demonstrations of welcome. The visitors were met at the South end of the village by President Dickson, the Board of Trustees, and the entire fire department of the village. An immense crowd of citizens were also in attendance, and on the company forming in line, they were greeted with loud and long continued cheering. A line was formed, and the procession started up State street in the following order:

Squad of Police.
Doring's Band.
Chief Engineer Doyle and Assistants.
Franklin H. & L. Company No. 1.
Lafayette Hose Company No. 3.
Sullivan's Band.
Washington Engine Co. No. 4.
Columbia Engine Co. No. 5.
Independent Hose Co. No. 1.
Ross' Band.
Relief Engine Co. No. 11, of Albany.
Committee of Arrangements, Village Authorities, and Mayor and Common Council of Troy
in Carriages.
Troy Drum Corps.
Officers of the Thirtieth Regiment,
Company A, Capt. Campbell.

The procession marched through all the principal streets of the village, which presented a magnificent appearance, nearly every residence being decorated with flags, wreaths of flowers, &c. In front of No. 3's engine house was a handsomely arranged platform of flowers, in the centre of which were life-size pictures of Capt. King and Lieut. Frank Dargen. The decorations were all in good taste, and contributed greatly to the success of the demonstration. Alfred Seaman, Esq., acted as Marshal of the day, assisted by Messrs. Welch and King, as aids.

The procession finally emerged on the public square, in the lower part of the village, where an address of welcome to the company was delivered by J. C. Comstock. A platform, shaded by a beautiful canopy formed of national colors, had been erected in the centre of the square, for the speakers, guests, and officers of the regiment. The soldiers were drawn up in line by Capt. Campbell, and were addressed substantially as follows by Mr. C., who was introduced by President Dickson, as the orator of the occasion:

Officers and Soldiers of Company A: A patriotic and free State always honors its soldiers. It considers them its ornament and power. We honor you for the noble services which you have rendered, and for the honor which you have conferred upon your State. In response to the first call of the President, you went forward to battle with your country's foes. You rallied in behalf of an imperilled Government, whose authority was denied by men who never received aught but blessings and protection. We have noticed, with eager eye, your career, since joining the army, and

1 we greet you to-day, as soldiers deserving the 2 highest homage of a free people. We followed you
 3 to Bull Run, and Upton's Hill, under King and 4 Dargen, and to the Rappahannock and Chancel-
 5 lorstville under your present commander, Capt.
 6 Campbell. From your ranks to-day, we miss many 7 familiar and loved countenances, and your flag tells 8 most eloquently of your sacrifices and sufferings.
 9 It has been asserted, and may be reiterated, with-
 10 out fear of contradiction, that the Old Thirtieth
 11 regiment has made longer marches, been engaged
 12 in more battles, and performed more reconnoissance
 13 duty, than any N. Y. regiment in the service.—
 14 (Cheers for the Iron Brigade.) We have to-day
 15 but one emotion, and that is that God will bless 16 you for your services in the past, and spare you to 17 enjoy the honors which are in store for you in the 18 future.

19 President Dickson here presented to the assem-20 blage "the old flag of company A, that never was 21 surrendered, nor never will be." (Loud applause.)

22 Mr. Comstock resuming, referred at length to 23 the inception and organization of the company.—
 24 He spoke feelingly and eloquently of the deceased
 25 officers, Capt. King and Lieut. Dargen; and also 26 paid a tribute of respect to the memory of the 27 deceased members of the company. As a com-
 28 pany, every officer under whom you have served,
 29 bears willing testimony to your efficiency in disci-
 30 pline and your bearing in action. In the name of 31 the village of Lansingburgh, I bid you welcome.—
 32 And from Oakwood and St. John's Cemeteries, 33 where repose the mortal remains of King and 34 DARGEN, comes greeting, in angelic tones, "Wel-
 35 come brave companions in arms."

36 Lieut. Col. Brintnall replied in behalf of the com-
 37 pany. He tendered the heartfelt thanks of the 38 officers and members of Company A to the au-
 39 thorities and citizens of Lansingburgh for their 40 noble reception—their hearty "welcome
 41 home." The soldiers have long looked forward
 42 to this day—they have long anticipated its plea-
 43 sure—but they have now experienced its joy.—
 44 Would to God that those two noble and manly
 45 spirits, KING and DARGEN, were present here to-46 day. Their familiar countenances are missed, but 47 their virtues are not forgotten. It was my plea-
 48 sure to be their messmate in the field for months, 49 and I know how joyously they anticipated the 50 "welcome home."

51 Two years ago this company, on bended knees, 52 swore allegiance to their country's flag. How 53 well and how faithfully they have remembered
 54 their obligation, their ranks and their battle-
 55 flag eloquently testify. I say this, although I am 56 their representative on this occasion, by way of 57 credit to the living and justice to the dead.

58 Citizens of Lansingburgh: You have reason to 59 be forever proud of Company A. No town in 60 the State has sent a nobler or truer body of sol-
 61 diers to the field. You have cordially welcomed
 62 them, and I can assure you they keenly appre-
 63 ciate it. To citizens, to firemen, to the represen-64 tatives of the village—to the ladies—to all—they 65 return heartfelt thanks. I am sure they con-
 66 sider themselves richly repaid for all their labors
 67 by this demonstration. (Applause.)

68 Rev. Mr. Bidwell commended the soldiers and 69 societies, and a collection was taken up in aid of 70 them.

71 Provost Marshal Chas. Hughes was then intro-72 duced, and referred pleasantly to a visit made to 73 the camp of the Thirtieth at Upton's Hill. He 74 gave some sound advice to the soldiers as to their 75 future conduct, and retired amid hearty applause.

76 "Jimmy Dennison," a member of the company,
 77 entertained the assemblage by singing a comic 78 camp song, which was very amusing.

The exercises over, the line of march was again resumed. At 2¼ o'clock the procession was dismissed at the Phoenix Hotel, where Company A, with the authorities of Lansingburgh and Troy took dinner. Prayer was offered by Rev. Mr. Beveredge, and after-dinner speeches were made by Messrs. J. C. Comstock, Mayor Van Alstyne, Col. Brintnall, F. B. Hubbell, Rev. Mr. Beveredge, Provost Marshal Hughes, and others.

The demonstration was a great success, and our neighbors honored themselves in thus honoring the soldiers.

—Relief No. 11, of Albany, was hospitably and handsomely entertained by No. 4 at the Anderson House. The company returned to Albany in the 5 o'clock Greenbush train yesterday afternoon. They made a fine appearance, and are always "at home" in the 'Burgh.

COMPANY A,

will return to Albany on Wednesday, for the purpose of being mustered out of service. Cos. D, E, and G, were received at Saratoga yesterday.

Cos. I, (Landon's), B, (Scott's) H, (Tillman's) will be received in this city in a day or two.

The Thirtieth regiment, Col. Searing, arrived at Albany May 30th, in the morning. In the evening there was a grand torchlight parade, the entire Fire Department participating. After the parade, the regiment marched to the Capitol, and were welcomed home by Gov. Seymour and Gen. Sprague.

RECEPTION AT SARATOGA.—Companies D, E, and G, of the Thirtieth Regiment, had a fine reception at Saratoga on Monday week. Col. Searing made a speech in response to one of welcome. He is quite fully reported in the Saratogian, a Republican paper, from which we quote a paragraph of his speech:

But I owe an acknowledgement. I wish to say that we have heard something about "Copperheads," and that the Capital of our State contained a good many of them; but if the reception we received there, and the address made to us by Governor Seymour, were manifestations of Copperheadism, then we want to see more of it. Governor Seymour made us as good a Union speech as I want to hear; and if what he said to us is the doctrine of the Copperheads, then I am one of them. [Applause by the Democrats.]

RETURN OF THE 30TH REGIMENT.—The term of this gallant regiment will expire in a short time. It will probably be disbanded at Albany, and that city will undoubtedly give them a noble welcome; but as all the field officers, and three of the companies, are from this village and vicinity, it is but proper that we should participate in the reception. It strikes us that a meeting should be held and Committees appointed for that purpose.

NEW YORK, June 28.

The 30th (Albany) Regiment N. Y. V., Col. Frisby, arrived here this forenoon, and are quartered at the Park barracks. They leave this evening.

Col. Baker's regiment left this evening for Washington.

THE THIRTIETH ALBANY REGIMENT, COL. FRISBEY.

The Thirtieth Albany regiment, under command of Colonel Frisbey, did not arrive in the city yesterday, much to the disappointment of large numbers of the friends of the regiment in New York. Late in the afternoon a despatch was received at General Arthur's office, stating that the regiment had been detained, but would leave Albany at half-past six o'clock P. M. They may, therefore, be expected here at about two o'clock this morning.

ALBANY, SATURDAY, JULY 13, 1861.

From Col. Frisby's Regiment.

HEAD QUARTERS 30TH REGIMENT, CAMP UNION, BRIGHTWOOD, D. C., July 9th, 1861.

FRIEND CUYLER—In my last you will remember I told you that we expected to go to Fortress Monroe, but instead we are camped some 5 miles from Washington, at a place called Brightwood. Our camp is beautifully situated in a pine and chestnut grove, with level ground, and no underbrush to interrupt free movements in all our drills. A large, nice frame house for officers quarters and hospital use are on the grounds, and two good wells, which furnish us with an abundance of pure, cool water. A short distance from camp is a fine brook, affording us splendid accommodations for bathing and washing purposes. In this beautiful selection for camp grounds our Colonel displayed great foresight and taste, and is deserving of much praise, which I know is awarded him by the entire Regiment. Every day he becomes more appreciated and respected by his officers and men. All look upon him as a highly honorable and brave commander, and Albany may well be proud that she was able to furnish one so well and truly qualified to take the command of the 30th Regiment. Then there is our most worthy and highly esteemed Adjutant, R. C. Bentley, another Albanian, well known for his military qualifications. With such officers belonging to the Albany 30th Regiment, Albanians have every reason to expect good tidings from them; and in the event of our Colonel leading us on to battle, he will find his men true as steel, determined to support and uphold their Colonel, maintain the honor of the Empire State, support the Constitution of the Union, and the perpetuity of the glorious Stars and Stripes. Take our officers one and all, and I am persuaded that no Regiment has, or could have, a better or more brave and noble class. The health of our Regiment is very good, considering our change of climate, water and general living, together with the long and severe drills we take daily in the manual of arms, marching in line of battle, double quick time, &c., &c. Could you see us in drill at the present time you would notice a vast improvement since we left Albany.

Some of the Regiments about here that have visited us in squads, complain of their rations, that they are poor, and many times scantily dealt out. Thanks to our good luck we cannot or have we any such complaints to make, for no trouble or pains are spared by our gentlemanly Quartermaster, Charles E. Russ, to furnish us with an abundance of the very best of food of every description. The fresh beef, and in fact all the meats furnished us, are equal if not superior to any I ever saw in the Albany or any other market. Our Quartermaster's prompt and liberal supply of everything necessary for camp life has won for him a most enviable position in the hearts of the entire Regiment. There too is our Quartermaster's Sergeant, Bernard Gulliger, who has won the esteem of the whole Regiment by his impartial distribution of the rations drawn by each company daily. All these things in the Quartermaster's department moving on so smoothly, has a tendency to make peace and concord pervade every other department of our Regiment, for men well fed and clothed, with comfortable tents and other camp necessities, will invariably be contented and happy.

Yesterday we were furnished with six additional tents to each company, making sixteen large and comfortable tents to each company. On the Anniversary of our National Independence, our Colonel marched us to Washington, where we passed in review before the President, returning to camp about 11 A. M., without coming to a halt, making, as we marched, a distance of about 12 miles. By this you will see we can make quick marches when 'tis necessary, which was the case in this instance, as we left but a hundred men at camp as guard. We are all in good spirits and are anxiously looking for an opportunity to present itself, so that the 30th may make its mark in the history of this war, and fulfill the expectations of its friends at home.

We have been the recipients of a very liberal and valuable present from Mr. C. H. Lilenthal, of New York, consisting of $250 worth of chewing and smoking tobacco. Could the worthy donor have seen the happy faces this caused, and heard the kind remarks made of him, I believe he would have felt abundantly repaid for his liberality.

We are now enabled to get all kinds of vegetables of the season, such as green peas, string beans, new potatoes, tomatoes, &c., and as for blackberries, all they cost us is to pick them, for there is a great abundance of them all about our camp. One can go and pick a quart and not be absent from camp more than twenty minutes, and in a week we shall have an abundance of whortleberries. By this you see soldiers have some of the luxuries of life, which sweetens and smoothes over the rough spots incident to camp life. The drum is now beating the Adjutant's call for dress parade, and I must close with the promise to remember you again soon.

Death of Col. Frisby.

The intelligence of the death of Col. FRISBY, once contradicted, is now confirmed. Private dispatches have been received stating that the gallant officer fell, mortally wounded, on the field of battle, during Saturday's fight. The body, it seems, is in the hands of the enemy, but it is believed it can be obtained, and a request has been made that Col. HARCOURT, a warm personal friend and a brother officer of the deceased, should proceed to Washington to convey home the remains.

The Eve Journal says of the deceased: "No one of our citizens was better or more favorably known than Col. FRISBY. He has, for more than twenty years, been identified with the military organizations of the city—having passed through every grade from Lieutenant to Brigadier General. He held this latter position when the war broke out, and surrendered it to take the Colonelcy of the 30th. He was a thorough disciplinarian, a kindhearted man and a brave soldier. His regiment is one of the very best in the service; and his death will be lamented by the men for whose welfare he labored, by his country, for which he gave his life, and by his family and friends who knew his patriotism and worth."

We can endorse all that is here said, and add our testimony to Col. FRISBY's worth as a private citizen, and his virtues as a man. His conduct on the field has been warmly eulogized by his superior officers, and by those who served under him. It appears that he had at least one narrow escape before his death.—The N. Y. Times says: "During the cannon duel on the Rappahannock on Saturday—the last day—Col. FRISBY, of the Thirty-seventh New York, had a very narrow escape from instant death. He had just dismounted from his horse, when a shell struck the pommel of the saddle, passed along and took off the head of a negro." It was after this that he received his death wound.

The citizens of Albany will deeply regret the loss of so gallant a soldier and so worthy a citizen, and will offer their warmest sympathy to his family in their bereavement.

LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

Welcome Home.

Respectfully Inscribed to the 30th Regiment, N. Y. S. V. Fling out our starry banner—forever may it wave! Hug bells! your loudest welcome to the loyal, true and brave! Let every joyous symbol—let every sign be shown, To tell these war-worn patriots that they are welcome home! When first along the flashing wires came news of Sumter's fall— Ere hope of gain made patriots—they answered duty's call: And now with laurels laden, they come both "true and tried." Then banners wave! ring loudly bells, to tell our joy and pride! I well recall to mind the day, two weary years ago, They turned away from friends, and home, to meet our Southern foe,— When 'mid the booming cannon and pealing bells was heard The muffled beat of aching hearts—the low, sweet farewell word. Ah! many lips on that sad day faltered their last "good-bye!" To those whose "welcome home" is sung by angel hosts on high! And while the kiss is given now, and words of welcome said, We'll not forget the tribute due the brave and honored dead, Whose bodies sleep in far off graves, beneath the daisied sod— Whose spirits, glorified, were led by angels up to God! And though no stone above their dust is reared with kindly care, Still flowers—bright flowers—are blooming, by angels planted there. And on our hearts the hand of love has traced each well-known name. Even while a grateful nation placed them on the scroll of fame And now, O bells, one moment stay, and toll for him who died While leading this devoted band against vile treason's tide— Who laid his crown of victory down, the hour in which 't was won, And angels bore it, twined with stars, beyond the setting sun! And now his blood, with thousands, at the bar of Justice pleads, While Fame and History gather up his name and noble deeds! And should we need a beacon light to lead us on to fame, We'll look aloft, where glory crowns our Father's honored name! Now ring again, O joyful bells! Our Nation's banner, wave! Unite in giving welcome to the loyal, true and brave: And pay this tribute to the dead—the noblest ever given— They sleep in soldiers' honored graves! Their rich reward is—Heaven! And say to those returning, a Nation bids them come And share its hallowed blessing, and earnest welcome home! Washington, D. C., May 25, 1863. NETTIE COLBURN.

RETURN OF THE 30TH REGIMENT.—The term of this gallant regiment will expire in a short time. It will probably be disbanded at Albany, and that city will undoubtedly give them a noble welcome; but as all the field officers, and three of the companies, are from this village and vicinity, it is but proper that we should participate in the reception. It strikes us that a meeting should be held and Committees appointed for that purpose.

Reception of the 30th Regiment N. Y. Volunteers.

The term of service of the 30th regiment N. Y. Volunteers will expire on the 1st day of June, when they will be entitled to a discharge in the City of Albany. It is fitting that Saratoga should extend a cordial welcome to our fellow citizens who have during the past two years, upheld their country's flag in that regiment. All persons in favor of doing so are requested to meet at the Marvin House, on Friday evening, 22d inst., at 7 1-2 o'clock, to make arrangements.

Saratoga Springs, May 19, 1863.

- H. H. Hathorn, T. McDonnell, J. T. Blanchard, J. W. Pitney, P. R. Waterbury, H. P. Trim, C. Sheehan, W. Bennett, B. F. Judson, Jas. M. Marvin, A. Watrous, J. C. Hulbert, J. A. Shoudy, E. Cowen, L. P. Close, J. W. Eddy, W. R. Gage.

30th Regiment, and its Reception.

At a meeting of the Board of Trustees of this village, held on Saturday evening last, a committee of citizens previously constituted and consisting of Daniel Shepherd, J. R. Putnam, L. B. Putnam, Hamilton Perry, John T. Carr, H. H. Hathorn, W. M. Potter, J. A. Corey, and E. J. Huling, made application to the village authorities for their co-operation in the reception of the field officers and members of Co's. D. F. and G., of the 30th Regiment.

A joint meeting was held immediately after the adjournment of the Board, and organized by the appointment of John H. White, Esq., chairman, and F. Height, Secretary.

On motion, it was

Resolved, That Henry H. Hathorn, John R. Putnam and L. B. Putnam be appointed a committee to procure subscriptions to give Co's. D. F. and G., of the 30th Regiment, a fitting reception on their arrival here, and with power of substitution in cases of inability to serve.

Invitations were also extended to the several members of the Fire Departments to attend the reception in a body.

The joint meeting then adjourned to Tuesday evening, to hear the report of the committee as to the amount of funds that could probably be raised, and necessary plan to carry on the reception, at which time a committee of five was appointed to form a full programme of the proceedings, and the probable expenses of the reception in detail, and report at a subsequent meeting of the committee.

The following persons were appointed such committee:

- John A. Corey, H. H. Hathorn, D. Shepherd, James N. Case, A. A. Patterson, with power to call a meeting of the joint Committee of the Trustees and committee of citizens at a future time.

The Thirtieth Regiment.

The Thirtieth regiment, the arrival of which was reported in our First Edition, will remain at the Park barracks until five o'clock this afternoon.
