We are recruiting for full-time, permanent positions for both day and overnight shifts on a variety of days. Even better, these opportunities consist of shifts with 4 (10-hour) workdays. Who doesn't love a 3-day weekend?

Throughout the launch of the site over the next several weeks, these opportunities will include full benefits as of Day 1 so please continue to spread the word! The link to the job posting is included below. We will be hosting hiring events this week and next week for candidates who complete their application and virtual webinar. I have also attached some information for you on the safety precautions Amazon has in place both throughout the hiring process and at our facilities in order to keep our candidates and employees safe.
