FAMILY READINESS GROUP (FRG): Everybody makes a difference every day. The main question is What KIND of difference is each of us making? Maybe you won't wake up and change the world tomorrow, but you can have a direct effect on the world of your spouse, your kids, and your family. A little extra time and attention or a small moment of kindness can change their world that day. You can change the world of a coworker, customer, vendor, or a stranger by either your smile or your frown. There are many different ways each of us can impact the world around us.... What kind of difference are you making? Find out how YOU can make a difference in our military family readiness group.
