NEW YORK ARMY NATIONAL GUARD SAFETY OFFICE

RISK MANAGEMENT MONTHLY

October 2026

WELCOME HOME HHBN, 42 ID

The NYARNG Safety Office would like to welcome home HHBN, 42 ID from their recent deployment in support of Operation Spartan Shield / Operation Inherent Resolve / Operation Epic Fury. We are glad to have MAJ Williams and CW5 Bloom back in the Safety Office.

SAFETY FIRST, READINESS ALWAYS!

ASOHMS is a comprehensive, systematic approach to managing safety and occupational health (SOH) risks, integrating safety into all operations, and fostering a proactive safety culture. It is a comprehensive framework encompassing policies, procedures, training, data management, and the engagement of personnel at every level in the assessment process. Full implementation and validation are required by the end of TY2030, in accordance with HQDA EXORD 002-024.

ARNG-SOHMS CAPABILITY OBJECTIVES

CO 1 — Leadership Engagement and Personnel/Soldier Participation
Focuses on visible leadership, personnel, and Soldier involvement in programs and overarching command support. Establish documentation that explains how an organization's execution, commitment, and policies support ASOHMS.

CO 2 — Investigate and Report Mishaps, Incidents, and Illnesses
Focuses on mishap and near-miss reporting, investigation, trend analysis, and injury and illness recordkeeping. Using safety and health data, organizations develop a database of leading indicators to address situations before they become hazards or risks.

CO 3 — Conduct Safety and Occupational Health Training and Promotion
Focuses on requirements for safety and occupational health (SOH) training.

CO 4 — Conduct Inspections and Assessments
Focuses on requirements for conducting inspections and assessments to identify workplace hazards.

CO 5 — Conduct Hazard Analysis and Develop Countermeasures
Focuses on the organization's methods for analyzing hazards and implementing a hierarchy of controls. This capability objective also includes emergency preparedness and organizational response.

CO 6 — Health Protection and Readiness
Focuses on occupational health services and readiness.

CO 7 — Tactical Safety and Readiness
Focuses on ensuring units can safely execute tactical operations and integrate safety management principles into mission planning, training, and execution. The ARNG has a dual mission, and it is imperative to support risk management in all activities and operations.
